

The background of the entire image is a collage of American flags, showing various folds and patterns of the stars and stripes. In the center, there is a rectangular patch divided into two horizontal sections. The top section is blue and features a single white five-pointed star above the year '2001', which is embroidered in a white cross-stitch pattern. The bottom section is white and features the year '2002' embroidered in a red cross-stitch pattern.
